A STORY TO MIME WITH BABY – HI, LITTLE OWL

UNE HISTOIRE À MIMER AVEC BÉBÉ – COUCOU. PETIT HIBOU !

Board books & Picture books - From 9 months onwards

Pascale Pavy
 Anna Simeone

THE COLLECTION

The very first stories to mime with your baby!

This series brings together toddlers and their parents for a unique moment of interaction and early stimulation, by allowing babies to become active and involved in reading. The story, about young animals in their daily life, can be read in three different ways: by reading it like a classic story, by miming it and showing the different illustrations (the child will associate the gesture and sounds to the pictures and words), and finally by singing it like a nursery rhyme with movements. The gentleness of the illustrations will charm babies and parents alike and allow bonding around a beautiful story!

MARKETABLE FEATURES

- An interactive story that stimulates senses and encourages the cognitive development of the child.
- A mime-reading experience tried and approved in day-care centres, multimedia libraries, etc.
- Neuroscience research shows that a child's development is shaped by its relationship and interaction with its parents: gestures, smiles, voice, tone of voice... all play a vital role in a child's cognitive development.
- With gentle and sweet illustrations for a moment of intimacy with baby!

THE AUTHORS

Pascale Pavy is a psychomotrician, instructor and author of more than 30 books for children, parents, and child-care professionals. She also speaks at crèches, schools, multimedia libraries, etc. It was in the pediatric hospital where she worked that she imagined stories for young children...

Anna Simeone is a Polish illustrator whose work can be seen in Polish, Italian, English and French books. She loves to capture joyous and simple moments of life as well as create gentle, sweet and colorful illustrations.

 Fabien Öckto-Lambert

THE COLLECTION

Popotam is a big boy now!

Through various amusing stories, this cute, small, and playful character finds himself in everyday situations and continues his learning journey, just like a 2- to 3-year-old would. Wanting to do things all by himself, exploring, observing and experimenting with his environment, jumping and running fast, or even being overwhelmed by his emotions, the child can see himself in Popotam and learn from his experiences.

MARKETABLE FEATURES

- A new hero in the Larousse children's catalogue.
- Gentle, impish drawings that seduce the youngest ones.
- Stories that mirror life so children can identify themselves in key aspects of a toddler's day.
- Short, simple, exuberantly depicted stories, tested and approved in crèches.

THE AUTHORS

Agnès Besson, a former editorial director for children's books, now works directly with young children, and loves to write stories for them.

After studying visual communication at the École Brassart in Tours, Fabien Öckto-Lambert, a father of three, sharpened his brushes and discovered a real passion for children's illustration. His colorful, plant-based work, which often features animals, can be seen in many children's books.

LILI AND THE MAGIC TREE

LILI ET L'ARBRE MAGIQUE

Board books & Picture books - From 2 years onwards

Laëticia Milo

Léa Fabre

THE BOOK

A wonderful tale that teaches to love and protect nature!

In the village of Peuplier, Lili waits for her chance for adventure. Every Sunday, she sets off to explore the forest with her best friend, a baby unicorn named Étoile. Usually, the forest is as comforting as a big hug. But today, it looks like it's grieving. The emerald moss carpet has turned gray. And the birds have stopped chirping. What's going on? Could the magic tree, on which the lives of all creatures depend, be in danger? Follow Lili and her unicorn on a wonderful adventure while learning to protect nature!

MARKETABLE FEATURES

- A strong message: love and protect the Earth.
- Tender illustrations by Léa Fabre, to follow the adventures of a courageous girl!
- A beautiful album with gilded embossing on the cover.

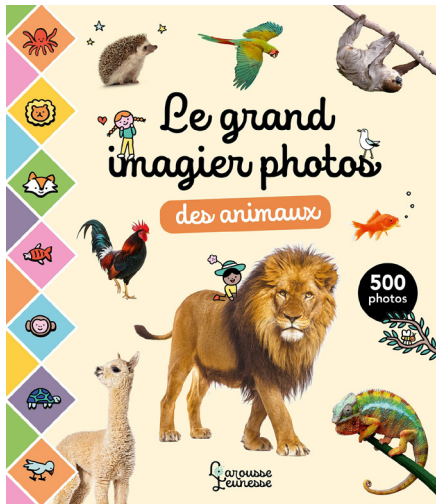

THE AUTHORS

Laëticia Milo's books are among the best-sellers in France since 2004: novels –adapted into films– and personal testimonies (including her battle against endometriosis).

Léa Fabre is an illustrator for children's books. Her colorful and cheery work, filled with princesses, flowers, animals, and other dreamy characters, can be seen on many books for different publishing houses.

Caroline Modeste

THE COLLECTION

The first encyclopedia for toddlers to learn 1,000 words... and much more!

This series of illustrated encyclopedias introduces children to everyday words, so they can learn while having fun! From the basics (potty, table, boots...) to the more challenging terms (airport, harvester, astronaut...), each book helps children to name everyday elements: flowers, trees, animals, but also jobs, objects, places, space, numbers and colors, and much more! With illustrations that are clear enough to easily identify the object, and rich and playful enough for older children! The variety richness of the themes allow children to make it their own and keep coming back to it until they're at least 5/6 years old!

MARKETABLE FEATURES

- A successful collection in France and abroad.
- A large format that can be read by several people and the illustrations seen in detail!
- Essential themes and vocabulary to learn for children's development.
- A book for several age ranges.

THE AUTHOR

A graduate of the École Estienne, Caroline Modeste has been illustrating children's books since 2002. Passionate about nature, she has developed a very colorful and joyful universe, with characters she likes to make as expressive as possible. UNE JOURNÉE DANS LA FORÊT

Board books & Picture books - From 3 years onwards

Agnès Besson
 Maud Riemann

THE COLLECTION

Non-fiction books that read like a short story to help children discover a place, an environment and a time!

These documentaries with a narrative text are made up of double-page spreads, illustrated with large scenes that unfold like a short story. Each has instructions for a game to draw the child into details of the image, using the skills they learn at school at this age: observation, finding, mime, counting, colors and more. The final pages suggest little games related to the book's subject

MARKETABLE FEATURES

- Non-fiction books with an original premise: narrative text that gives children an opportunity to experience the world and explore it in detail.
- Beautiful illustrations as seen in picture books and much less common in non-fiction.
- A new series focusing on important topics for children.

THE AUTHORS

Agnès Besson, a former editorial director for children's books, now works directly with young children, and loves to write stories for them.

Maud Riemann's illustrations can be seen on many children's books, and comics. She received the Figures futur award in 2004.

Board books & Picture books - From 3 years onwards

Marjorie Béal

THE BOOK

Snap, snap... your nightmare arrives in the middle of the night and keeps you awake. How do you make it go away?

An all-board, interactive album to help children play down the theme of nightmares. The nightmare is personified and takes the form of a black cloud that you must chase away using a variety of techniques presented in the book with humor and lightness: a cuddly toy attack, an avalanche of kisses... The ideal album for calmer nights!

MARKETABLE FEATURES

- A play book for toddlers: flaps to lift, gestures to perform...
- The theme of nightmares, a key topic in early learning, approached here with a great deal of gentleness and humor.
- The ideal book to make bedtime a less dramatic experience, thanks to clever advice.
- Marjorie Béal's colorful, lively illustrations counterbalance the theme, sometime a source of anxiety for children.

THE AUTHOR

Marjorie Béal is an author and illustrator for children's books. Depending on her inspiration and the story to be illustrated, she uses graphic tablet, collage, drawing, painting....

MY FIRST LAROUSSE OF COOKING – AROUND THE WORLD

MON PREMIER LAROUSSE DE LA CUISINE AUTOUR DU MONDE

Activity game books - From 5 years onwards

Agnès Besson
 Clémentine Dérodit

THE COLLECTION

An introduction to classic recipes with step-by-step explanations for first-time cooks!

More than 20 easy-to-make sweet and savory recipes: through clear instructions and illustrations, children can actively participate in the kitchen and learn how to realize classics, such as chocolate cake, English scones, Mexican guacamole, croque-monsieurs, or even jam rolls, and more! Measurements are made with a basic cup unit to make the job easier. Each tool and ingredient are listed before the recipe, alongside a beautiful picture of the final product.

MARKETABLE FEATURES

- A practical binding for young kids: wire'o book with laminated pages and delicious content!
- Step-by-step instructions so children can do everything, (almost!) like adults.
- Cute and engaging illustrations.

THE AUTHORS

Agnès Besson, a former editorial director for children's books, now works directly with young children, and loves to write stories for them.

Clémentine Dérodit is a freelance graphic designer and illustrator. Her colorful and fresh style enhances the books she creates with Agnès Besson and is sure to catch the eye of children!
